Subject: Net- Metering - Case No. U-15803

As to Case No. U-15803 and the issue of net metering. We should not make things complicated. Additionally if we as a society are going to be serious about energy and it's aspect to the environment, national economy and the use of renewable energy sources. The laws should be simple and facilitate citizens and businesses with the empowerment to pursue renewable energy sources. This case and any others which may come forward pertaining to net metering should allow the customer to have a simple net metering scheme which provides appropriate incentives as it pertains to charges and billing. Not something protecting investors of utility companies.
